A product-led ecommerce and lifecycle direction

What is visible

The main screen presents a cocktail smoking kit, a “Shop now” cue and categories for smokers, wood chips and gift sets. Smaller pages suggest supporting shopping and email material.

How to interpret the sample

This exhibit demonstrates a visual direction around a cocktail-smoking product. It does not establish a complete ecommerce implementation, deployed email sequence or measured sales result.

Source and limits

Retained from an earlier Final Step Marketing portfolio export. Client identity, original delivery date, implementation status and exact agency role are not documented for this visual. Refreshed contextual presentation: November 2026. Historical published work is listed separately in the original archive.
